PCMI Integrates with Payment Gateway Provider Infintech, Implementing New Automated Payment Processes

This partnership enhances the payment process between dealers and administrators by integrating Infintech's efficient gateway within PCRS administration software.

Park Ridge, Illinois – October 27, 2020 – PCMI has partnered with Infintech to integrate its payment gateway solution within PCMI's Policy Claim and Reporting Solutions™ (PCRS" platform, streamlining payment processing between dealers and administrators. Users can expect additional payment functionality within PCRS, such as enabling ACH for dealers to submit bills and a gateway where they can monitor transactions.

Through this partnership, PCRS administrators have the capability to support both ACH and integrated credit cards from dealers. As these transactions are immediate, the PCRS Agent portal provides updated online status of payments and commission information, simplifying month-end process.

Matt Valego, Vice President of Regional Sales of Infintech, said, "We look forward to helping PCMI and their customers attain a seamless integration solution, backed by industry experts and a dedicated customer support team. As a credible processor of credit card and ACH transactions, Infintech wants nothing more than to enable merchants to accept payments that keeps their business thriving today and in the future."

Mark Nagelvoort, President & CEO of PCMI, said, "PCMI is dedicated to digital automation - which includes making it easier for dealers to pay their funds electronically. Our new partnership simplifies the process for both the dealer and the administrator, further reducing costs."
